

Damjan Kozamernik

Damjan Kozamernik is the director of the Analysis and Research Centre of the Bank of Slovenia and member of the Monetary Policy Committee at the European Central Bank. Previously he occupied the positions of advisor at the Analysis and Research Centre, member of the Working Group on Econometric Modeling at the European Central Bank and research assistant at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland. His research mainly comprises the fields of macroeconomic transmission and institutional impacts on labor market behavior.

He has a PhD in economics from the University of Lausanne.