

Zorica Apostolska

Zorica Apostolska is the Director of the Agency for Supervision of Fully Funded Pension Insurance (MAPAS). Apostolska is an economist who beside the experience in finance and accounting (for 13 years) has a long professional experience (15 years) in the pension sector. Apostolska was Assistant Minister of Labor and Social Policy, Director of the World Bank Pension Reform Project (PERTAP), President of the Steering Committee for Pension Reform (second pillar) and currently she is the Deputy President of the Steering Committee for the design and the implementation of voluntary pension insurance.

Apostolska successfully finished courses about pension systems and their reform in Harvard, Washington and Budapest. She was a speaker on numerous international seminars and conferences on pension reform and social insurance in Sofia, Belgrade, Budapest, Zagreb, on the Annual conference of FIAP in Kiev, in Cavtat, Banja Luka etc. She also participated on the Annual meeting of ILO in Geneva, the Annual Assembly of EBRD in London, the Annual Assembly of IOPS in Istanbul 2006 etc. Recently, Apostolska held a lecture "Regulation of the Capital market" for the needs of the course "Investment advisors" organized by the Macedonian Securities and Exchange Commission and a lecture "Capital market and the pension funds" for the students from the American College in Skopje.