Project Background

The implementation of structural reforms often faces challenges in:

- prioritization of effective reforms
- calculation of costs
- securing budget for implementation

The project will enable participants to understand how to address these challenges.

The Economic Reform Programmes (ERP) are aimed at supporting the acceleration of economic growth and competitiveness of the markets of the EU candidates and potential candidates by implementing structural reforms to meet the economic criteria for EU accession.

Who Is It for?

The project is designed for EU candidates and potential candidates – the Western Balkans and Turkey. The target groups are public officials at top, middle and junior levels involved in the design, fiscal planning, implementation and coordination of structural reforms and ERP.

Line ministries

- Budget and finance officials
- Policy-makers
- Service delivery managers

Ministries of finance

- Heads of departments
- Budget experts and analysts
- HR and communication specialists

Agencies and other institutions

- Budget and finance officials

National ERP coordinators

Structural reform coordinators

What's in It for You?

THE PROJECT WILL STRENGTHEN

▶ Analytical and costing capacities of line ministries to improve their ability for comprehensive assessment of fiscal implications of structural reforms.

▶ Inter-institutional coordination within respective line ministries, as well as between the line ministries and the ministry of finance for successful reform implementation.

▶ Cross-national cooperation and exchange of good practices among public officials across the region.

FURTHER OUTCOMES OF THE PROJECT

- Well-designed structural reforms planning documents
- Regional exchange of good practices
- Enhanced budgeting
- Reinforced practical skills
- Collaboration with Technical Assistance providers (IMF, OECD, TAIXEX)
- Public officials trained as trainers to enhance knowledge sharing

How Will You Learn?

The FISR project will be delivered through tailor-made, participatory and experience based learning events, both face-to-face and online. While part of the trainings will take place at the CEF in Ljubljana, the majority of them will be carried out in the region. We will merge the CEF's expertise with the knowledge of our partners, including the European Commission, international organizations, governments of selected bilateral donors, academics, international and regional experts.
